

Pacific Northwest

Water Research Symposium

Hosted by the Oregon State University Hydrophiles

March 6th and 7th, 2017

Corvallis, Oregon

The Water Research Symposium is a FREE two-day conference that provides opportunities for students to:

- Present proposed, ongoing, or completed research in both Poster and Oral Sessions
- Participate in workshop sessions led by acclaimed faculty and practicing professionals
- Engage with water resources professionals in mentoring sessions
- Mingle during a networking reception with peers and local professionals
- Viewing of the documentary Bear Witness followed by small group discussions in world café style

The 2017 theme for the symposium is “Unity Through Water.” All are welcome to submit abstracts and attend the conference.

To submit your abstract and register go to:

HydrophilesResearchSymposium.org

Questions? hydrophilesresearchsymposium@gmail.com

Abstract Submissions Due By January 15th

Travel Grants and student-hosted housing available