

Hiking the History of the Eastern Gorge

A College Outdoors Trip with Professor Paul Allen

Join math professor Paul Allen on a hike through the eastern Columbia Gorge. While walking through this amazing landscape, we'll discuss how the uses of the land and river have changed over the past 200 years: how a native fishing community becomes a Google data center, and how a ranching homestead becomes a popular recreation site.

Saturday March 18

Sign-ups open now at the College Outdoors Office
Templeton 244
first come, first served